

Media Advisory

The Contractor Safety Awareness Association (CSAA) in partnership with Saskatchewan Common Ground Alliance (SCGA) will be holding their annual Contractor Safety Breakfasts across Saskatchewan over the next month.

The breakfasts, designed as a short meeting with a hearty breakfast and vital message, aim to increase the awareness of working safely around underground and overhead facilities. The breakfasts are used to promote the message of Call Before You Dig and Look Up and Live.

This year the CSAA and SCGA will be holding Safety Breakfasts in various communities across the province as per the attachment. Media is invited to attend the breakfast. A representative from the CSAA/SCGA will be available for interviews.

Invited breakfast guests include construction workers, supervisors, business owners, rural municipalities, emergency responders and anyone who is associated in any aspect of ground disturbance or overhead lines.

Last year, nearly 4,500 workers from over 1,200 Saskatchewan companies attended the CSAA safety breakfasts across the province. The CSAA has been holding these free contractor breakfasts for the past 25 years in Saskatchewan and this year they will be hosting 29 sessions.
